Following his stunning photo-safari tour through Africa and the unprecedented helicopter voyage from Europe to Africa documented in Eyes Over Africa, award-winning photographer Michael Poliza has ventured to the polar regions. With his distinct combination of intimate close-ups and cinematic landscapes, Poliza unveils the magical worlds of the frozen paradises most threatened by global warming. Poliza shows captures every particular of the Arctic landscape from polar bears as they frolic among purple fireweed and multicolored icebergs to numerous other precious specimens of rare and endangered species. Poliza once again reveals some of the world's most vulnerable treasures ensconced in our one of our planet's few remaining pristine landscapes.

"Michael Poliza takes extreme photography to the extremes" ~British Journal of Photography"Michael Poliza photographs natural vistas in the most spectacular way. His precise, graphic style combined with a superb eye for a story has launched him into the highest echelon of wildlife photography." ~Digital SLR Photography"A masterpiece of evocation, poetic in its vision, strident in its essence." ~Good Book Guide
