Furtherance of the Objects of the Church Missionary Society (Classic Reprint):

Excerpt from Christian Researches in Syria and the Holy Land in 1823 and 1824: In Furtherance of the Objects of the Church Missionary Society It is, however, fully to be borne in mind, that such a System of Research forms only a part - a small, and continually decreasing part, of the work of a People who have, indeed, been already effected, to open an introduction to immediate and important labours. The various Christian Societies of our own Country, of the Continent, and of America would probably all of them concur in this judgment, and many of them are acting upon it. But the Spirit and the measures of all need a vast enlargement. It is high time for the faithful members of Christ to be instant in their supplications to Him, who is the great Head over all things to the Church - that He would vouchsafe to pour out the gift of His Holy Spirit more abundantly than ever, preparing all the Nations by a feeling of anxious expectation of some great event, and at the same time sending forth a numerous company of Evangelists to visit all the dark places of the Earth in the fulness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.
