Chapter "The Shady Lady". Excellent description of the adventures we had with him. Tom Shade captain of 48 foot sailing yacht Shadey Lady5 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Good author out does himself. By James G. Graham This author has lived a most remarkable life of public life and adventure. Swimming the mouth of Manilla Bay after escaping from the Japanese for the second time only to be captured again is the subject of an earlier book that caused me to get and read Cilin II his latest about his very late in life solo sailing trip around the world in a 30 ft boat. The trials and problems, many life threatening, and his ability to forge ahead made this book an interesting read. I could not put it down once I got to the middle of the book. Review of Cilin II: A Solo Sailing Odyssey By lindalee slegelmilch I really enjoyed reading this book for the comic relief it provided me! This was a real Mr. Magoo adventure. To go into the Red Sea (the busiest shipping lane in the world) without a dodger, bimini and to go to sleep at night without looking for ships takes a real amount of gall. Professional sailors will enjoy reading of the gaffs Mr. Whitcomb committed. Real solo sailors will be appalled at the title of his book. Sailors who are contemplating circumnavigating the globe will be able to use this as a tool of what NOT to do.
