I can mark my route with a dry erase marker on the way back, wipe it off/remark a new route home. Nicely printed in print the size of a ball point pin tip (about a 05 - try that on your word processor, print it off/read it for a preview). Easy to read if you have good light, good vision, a large magnifying glass while sitting at home. Not so easy in a moving car in varying light while looking for a highway number/name while your husband is driving at 65 mph. But you will be able to easily find the dry erase line that marks your route. So it's a love/hate type of relationship thing. Great for planning, but use a smart phone for details. I could not answer these questions my husband asked during the trip: How far to such-n-such town? and What's the name of the highway do I turn onto up here? or Which exit do I take here? But he loved the maps for planning. I was ready to give them to my 4 year old granddaughter to play explorer with. Now I keep them for our next trip. Keep your smart phone charged.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Not a solid mapBy Kathleen GreenThis map has all kinds of information and helps me find places in Oklahoma. However, I only gave it 4 stars because, although it is laminated very well, it has been cut up into 4 pieces to allow for folding. That would be OK if the pieces were not so far separated. This makes it a little harder to follow the lines for roads, etc. Otherwise I am very satisfied with this map and glad I have it.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Spillproof, accurate and fun!By Madeline R.I am really old-school about "real maps". I bought them for the entire Midwest and all southern states when we moved to Chicago from the west five years ago and have been using them on road trips ever since. When our family went to a drive-through coffee establishment early one morning this spring break in eastern Kansas, our barista said, "I remember maps! Where are you going? Don't you have a smart phone?" In fact, the three of us had four of them between us, but if you want to get a real sense of the distance between places then a "real map" is the ne plus ultra. I placed six of these RM maps border-to-border on a hotel bed our first night of a 2,150 mile journey looking at colleges and our son finally appreciated (if not the effort we were making on his behalf, then at least) the journey he'd be making to and from Chicago to the college of his choice. Happy Travels! Go Golden Hurricane of Tulsa U.!
