It comes rolled up so you will have to lay it out flat for a while to make it a little easier to manage...it will want to roll back up. Ours arrived in great shape with just a slight crease where it wasn't rolled perfectly, but it was not noticeable after we let it flatten out for a few days. The map has a somewhat vintage look to it. It would look great on a wall with no border or anything but we built a frame for ours out of stained wood and backed it with foam board. Altogether we probably spent around $35-$40 and it looks better than many of the professionally done maps for nearly a quarter of the cost. I would definitely recommend this map to anyone looking for a large map that looks great on a wall, especially when framed.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. INCORRECT LISTINGBy Aspen Sunshine BourqueNotice to anyone wanting a map the size listed...it is NOT 32 inches...it is 30 inches. I purchased this product for a craft and had all of my materials to fit this particular size, only to be surprised when I went to put it all together. The map was not the size listed. The seller, in their defense, was quite apologetic and offered to work with me however they could. They stated that they have asked to change it many times to no avail. The map itself is beautiful and would have been wonderful for what I was planning to make. I have since ordered a framed map from the same company and am hopeful that it will meet expectations. The shipping was fast, and emails regarding the size, etc. were answered promptly and courteously, and despite the fact that I had already cut the map, they offered me a full refund. I was very pleased with the company, just disappointed that the craft didn't work out because the size listed was incorrect. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars
