Its major problem (for me) was that it used Latin/Roman letters and it should have also included Cyrillic letters. It should print each city, etc., in both letter-types.I traveled the Transiberian Railroad --- all the stations in Russia are listed in Cyrillic letters so this map was totally useless as it only used Latin/Roman letters.A word to the wise....0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Small printsBy Edith E. PettisKind of hard to see the print. You really have to work to understand it - but there seem to be no other maps of this region. I'm glad I bought it.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Four StarsBy Karen FlorioFairly good map.

Double sided travel map of Russia in Latin alphabet, scale 1:6,000,000, with an inset of central Moscow 1:12,500 (street names latinized, major streets also in Cyrillic), extensive place name index.
